Welcome

Welcome. This book was made for people who remember where they were on the morning of 29 July 1981, who kept the newspaper from that week, and who still think of Diana with a smile.

Every puzzle is printed in large, clear type, one to a page, with plenty of room to write. There are no tricks: words in the word searches read left to right, top to bottom, or diagonally downward — never backwards.

The book follows Diana's story in eight chapters, from Park House to Althorp. Each puzzle opens with a true fact from her life or the royal world around her. The quizzes are gentle, and the answers are at the back if you need them.

Take your time. Have a cup of tea. Enjoy.

Park House, Sandringham

Diana spent her first fourteen years at Park House, a ten-bedroom home her parents rented on the Sandringham estate, where the young royals were near neighbours.
